National Guard plans 200,000 sf. $33 million Project At Greenhaven on 40 acres

The Depot will replace the existing Peekskill facility

BEEKMAN, NY – According to John MacEnroe, President of Dutchess County Economic Development Corp., the New York Army National Guard is planning to construct a vehicle maintenance facility on a 40-acre site in Beekman, New York. The estimated $33 million project scope includes construction of a 200,000 square foot building with repair and wash bays; and purchase and installation of cranes and other material handling, machining, welding and assembly equipment and systems. The facility will repair and maintain military vehicles and equipment and replace an existing facility in Cortlandt, New York. Design will be performed by a firm from a preselected group; construction bids for construction and procurement of equipment are expected to be solicited through the Office of General Services in the first or second quarter of 2011.

The Peekskill facility will be used in an expansion of the existing National Guard training camp.
